A Message from the President

1

Dear Colleague:

At this time of year it is customary to review the year just past and look forward to the year to come. We are told that is why the Roman god Janus had two faces. We can look back on 2005 with a sense of pride in our accomplishments, which included three significant new awards. At the same time, we must acknowledge that it also was a time for looking forward to what we can—and must—achieve in the future.

In 2005, the Foundation presented awards totaling $255,000. This same year, with a commitment of $1 million from the American Academy of Periodontology, the Foundation announced new awards of $50,000 each that foster the development of periodontal educators, the AAP Educator Scholarships and the AAP Teaching Fellowships. These new awards expand the Foundation's support of periodontal education. In addition, the Foundation announced the AAPF Education Fellowship Funded by OMNII Oral Pharmaceuticals. This Fellowship will help support postdoctoral research projects related to periodontal practice and the prevention of periodontitis while also encouraging careers in academic periodontics. The Foundation is a partner in the National Campaign for Dental Education (NCDE), a collective fund-raising effort that seeks to enhance dental education, and these awards are counted as part of the NCDE effort.

In other good news, as the year drew to a close, the Foundation received one of only seven grants awarded by the American Dental Association Foundation to programs considered outstanding in their innovative approach to issues in dental education. The AAP Foundation will use the grant money to aid in our educational efforts.

This has been an exciting time to serve as your Foundation's president. We have experienced the thrill of seeing the Foundation move to even greater levels of service to our specialty. We also realize much remains to be done. I've had the honor of serving with an exceptional Board and staff. It has been a privilege for which I am most grateful.

Thank you for your continuing support of the Foundation.

Very truly yours,

S. Jerome Zackin, D.M.D.

New Awards and Initiatives

Mission Statement

The mission of the American Academy of Periodontology (AAP) Foundation is to improve the periodontal and general health of the public through increasing public and professional knowledge of periodontal diseases and their therapies, stimulating basic and clinical research to generate new knowledge, and enhancing educational programs at all levels to create opportunities in periodontal education and practice.

New AAP Foundation Awards Focus on Educator Development

The recruitment and retention of periodontal educators is vital to the future of the specialty. In 2005, the Foundation became steward of a $1 million commitment from the Academy to support the development of periodontal faculty. Two new awards were developed to address the shortage of periodontal faculty on two levels: AAP Educator Scholarships, which provide support for future periodontal faculty, and AAP Teaching Fellowships, which offer debt relief and support for young periodontal faculty. The awards are $50,000 each and multiple awards may be given each year, depending on the applicant pool. The first Educator and Teaching Fellowship awards recipients will be announced in 2006.

AAP Educator Scholarships

AAP Educator Scholarships are available to qualified students who have been accepted into, or are currently in, a US periodontal postdoctoral training program and who intend to enter full-time teaching at a US periodontal program. The Scholarships provide support for future periodontal educators on two levels: a financial incentive to teach and the guidance of a mentor committed to helping the student develop in their career as a periodontal educator. Educator Scholars must spend a year for each year he/she receives funding.

AAP Teaching Fellowships

AAP Teaching Fellowships will be awarded to qualified faculty who are in their first three years of full-time teaching (as defined by their institution) at a US periodontal program or who have accepted a full-time faculty position in a US periodontal program. The award is granted after the Fellow completes a full year of teaching. Teaching Fellowships also include a mentoring component so that the young educator will have the ongoing support of a more senior educator as their teaching skills evolve during the course of the Fellowship.

AAP Foundation Education Fellowship Funded by OMNII Oral Pharmaceuticals

In 2005, the Foundation continued to expand its encouragement of research with the addition of the AAP Foundation Education Fellowship Funded by OMNII Oral Pharmaceuticals. The $15,000 award encourages research projects related to the prevention of periodontitis and periodontal practice. It is available to qualified students in their first or second year of a U.S. periodontal postdoctoral program and encourages careers in academic periodontology.

The award was announced at the 2005 annual meeting and the first recipient will be chosen in 2006.

Foundation Supports AAP Predoctoral Congress...

The AAP Foundation was a co-sponsor along with the American Academy of Periodontology of the AAP Predoctoral Congress, which took place in July 2005 in Chicago. The Foundation provided $50,000 to support the event, which drew predoctoral periodontal program directors from 53 US and Canadian dental schools. The event provided the opportunity for a focused examination of the challenges facing predoctoral periodontal education.

Drawing on the results of a survey sent to predoctoral educators earlier in the year, three topics were selected for discussion during the congress: attracting faculty, students, and support; the predoctoral clinic; and curriculum content and delivery. In small group sessions, action items for the Academy and educational system were identified for each discussion topic. Proceedings of the Congress will be provided to dental school deans, Congress participants, and Academy leadership. The Academy's Education Committee will evaluate the findings and develop an action plan for providing the priority resources identified during the Congress.

...And Launches Disaster Relief Effort

Spurred by the wide-ranging damage inflicted by Hurricane Katrina, and the desire of periodontists to help their peers affected by the storm, the Foundation launched an ad hoc Disaster Relief Drive at the Annual Meeting in Denver. Periodontists responded generously, giving more than $25,000 to the Relief Drive. The money was distributed by the American Dental Association Disaster Response Fund which coordinated relief efforts for the dental community. Their disaster relief plan ensured that donations got to colleagues in need as quickly as possible.

2005 Awards

Dr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Kramer Scholar Award for Excellence

The $10,000 Dr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Kramer Scholar Award for Excellence was created to recognize personal and academic excellence. One Kramer Scholar is selected to receive the Award each year. Third-year students in accredited U.S. periodontal programs are eligible for nomination, which must be made by their periodontal program chairperson. When reviewing candidates for the Award, the selection committee considers evidence of personal integrity, leadership, community involvement, and concern for others, as well as academic achievement.

The Kramer Scholar Award is the Foundation's first named award and its first recipient was announced in 1997. Finalists for the Kramer Scholar Award were Dr. Jason Cooke, a student in the periodontal program at the University of Michigan at the time of his nomination, Dr. Cortney Davis, who was in the periodontics program at the Medical College of Georgia at the time of her nomination, and Dr. Heather Ridgway a student in the periodontal program at the University of Texas Health Science Center At San Antonio Dental School (UTHSCSA) at the time of her nomination. Dr. Ridgway was selected as the 2005 Kramer Scholar. She has since graduated and is teaching part-time at the Baylor College of Dentistry.

2005 Awards

Bud and Linda Tarrson Fellowship

The Tarrson Fellowship is a $30,000 faculty development award intended to support talented periodontal academicians. Candidates must be full- or part-time faculty at the instructor or assistant level at a U.S. periodontal training institution and are nominated by their program director.

The Tarrson Fellowship was created by Bud Tarrson, a business leader in oral healthcare, and his wife Linda. The couple believed in the value of periodontal education and wanted to help young periodontal educators to sustain their career path in academics and research.

Finalists for the Bud and Linda Tarrson Fellowship were: Dr. Peter Loomer, director of the predoctoral education program in periodontology at the University of California, San Francisco; Dr. Monish Bhola, program director of graduate periodontics at the University of Detroit Mercy School of Dentistry; and Dr. Keith Kirkwood, assistant professor in the Department of Periodontics and Endodontics at the University of Michigan. Dr. Kirkwood was awarded the Bud and Linda Tarrson Fellowship in 2005.

Richard J. Lazzara Fellowship in Advanced Implant Surgery

Named for one of the specialty's leaders in implant dentistry, the $50,000 Richard J. Lazzara Fellowship in Advanced Implant Surgery is funded by 3i. The 12-month Fellowship is intended to provide educational and clinical experiences reflecting the most current implant dentistry techniques. The Fellow receives a $35,000 stipend and the institution receives $15,000 to offset administrative costs. Students may apply during their third year of periodontal post-doctoral training and the Fellowship must take place at the recipient's training institution. In addition, the award's research component includes development of an article suitable for publication in the Journal of Periodontology. Applications for the award are filed jointly by the potential fellow and his/her periodontology program director.

Three finalists for the 2005 Lazzara Fellowship were Dr. Giuseppe Intini, a third-year resident in the combined PhD/Periodontics Program at the University of Buffalo at the time of his nomination; Dr. Sang-Hoon Park, a third-year resident in the Department of Periodontics/Prevention/Geriatrics at the University of Michigan, School of Dentistry at the time of his nomination; and Dr. Saulius Drukteinis, a resident in the postdoctoral program at the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB) School of Dentistry and graduate student in the UAB School of Engineering at the time of his nomination. The Richard J. Lazzara Fellowship in Advanced Implant Surgery was awarded to Dr. Park. In addition to his Periodontics Specialty Certificate, Dr. Park also holds an M.Sc. in Oral Biology from the University of Michigan.

Tarrson Regeneration Scholarships

The Tarrson Regeneration Scholarships encourage periodontal research focused on hard and soft tissue regeneration. In addition, the award promotes the development of periodontal educators by requiring that Tarrson Regeneration Scholars commit to spending one year of full-time teaching in a periodontal program at a U.S. training institution for each year he/she receives Scholarship funds. Applicants must submit a research proposal abstract and personal essay that addresses their interest in regeneration as well as reasons for wanting to teach, in addition to their curriculum vitae, dental school transcripts and letters of reference.

The award is funded by the Bud Tarrson Foundation for Dental Research. Two Tarrson Regeneration Scholarships are awarded every three years, each in the amount of $37,000 per year for each year of the recipients' three-year periodontal training program.

Finalists for the award in 2005 were: Dr. Jill Bashutski, a periodontics resident at the University of Michigan School of Dentistry; Dr. Patricia Diaz, a resident in the Department of Periodontology, School of Dentistry, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Dr. Manoj Muthukuru, a periodontology resident, Harvard School of Dental Medicine, Department of Oral Medicine, Infection and Immunity; and Dr. Isabel Gay, a resident at the University of Alabama School of Dentistry, Department of Periodontics.

Dr. Bashutski and Dr. Gay were selected to receive 2005 Tarrson Regeneration Scholarships. The next Tarrson Regeneration Scholarships will be awarded in 2008.

In 2005, Jill Bashutski and Isabel Gay received the first Tarrson Regeneration Scholarships to be awarded. Here, Jill Bashutski (left) is congratulated by AAP Foundation President Jerry Zackin.

Abram and Sylvia Chasens Teaching and Research Fellowships

The Abram and Sylvia Chasens Teaching and Research Fellowships provide awards of $15,000 each to two periodontal postgraduate students who are entering careers in periodontal education. Fellowship candidates must be in their third year of an accredited U.S. periodontal post-doctoral training program and intend to pursue full-time teaching and research at a U.S. periodontal program.

Although Dr. Abram Chasens had a lengthy career in private practice, he taught for many years as well and, along with his wife Sylvia, has a high regard for the periodontal education process. Dr. Chasens began his teaching career at New York University, and in 1957 started the department of periodontics and oral medicine at Fairleigh Dickinson University. He also held an appointment at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey-New Jersey Dental School. Dr. Yiorgos A. Bobetsis, who was completing his periodontal training at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill School of Dentistry, Department of Periodontology, at the time of his nomination and Dr. Dana Wolf, a resident at the Columbia University School of Dental and Oral Surgery, Division of Periodontics, at the time of her nomination, were named recipients of Abram and Sylvia Chasens Teaching and Research Fellowships in 2005.

2005 Awards

E. Bud Tarrson Research Award in Oral Plastic Surgery

Now in its second year, this $1,000 award was created to support and encourage clinically-based periodontal research in oral plastic surgery. The award is given for the best paper on oral plastic surgery published in a peer-reviewed journal over the previous year. At least one of the researchers must be a periodontist or a periodontal postgraduate student. The award honors the memory of Bud Tarrson, who was a long-time supporter of the specialty and was a member of the AAP Foundation Board of Directors.

The E. Bud Tarrson Research Award in Oral Plastic Surgery in 2005 was given for "Randomized Study Evaluating Recombinant Human Bone Morphogenetic Protein-2 for Extraction Socket Augmentation," published in the Journal of Periodontology. Its authors were Drs. Joseph Fiorellini, T. Howard Howell, David Cochran, Jay Malmquist, Leslie Lilly, Daniel Spagnoli, Joseph Toljanic, Archie Jones and Myron Nevins.

Joseph Fiorellini (left) receives congratulations from Jerry Zackin. Joseph Fiorellini was one of the contributing researchers to the published article receiving the 2005 Tarrson Research Award in Oral Plastic Surgery. Authors of the article, "Randomized Study Evaluating Recombinant Human Bone Morphogenetic Protein-2 for Extraction Socket Augmentation," were Fiorellini, T. Howard Howell, David Cochran, Jay Malmquist, Leslie Lilly, Daniel Spagnoli, Joseph Toljanic, Archie Jones and Myron Nevins.

Charles W. Finley Visiting Scholar Education Grants

Created in honor of the late Dr. Charles W. Finley, these awards provide matching annual grants of $1500 each to accredited periodontal programs to offset expenses associated with a presentation by an outstanding periodontal speaker. To be approved for a Finley Grant, the presentation topic must be of interest and value to the entire dental professional team and must reach a significant number of professionals.

Dr. Finley was well-regarded in the field, where he exerted a wide and positive influence. Dr. Finley was a clinical professor of periodontics at Baylor University College of Dentistry from 1954 until 1976. From 1976 until 1991, he was an assistant clinical professor of periodontics at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio. Dr. Finley was a charter member of the Foundation Board of Directors and its second president. He also served as president of the AAP, and in 1984 received the Academy's Gold Medal Award.

Programs awarded the Charles W. Finley Visiting Scholar Education Grants for 2005 are the Graduate Program in Periodontology at Temple University for a presentation by Dr. Jim Mellonig, who is a professor and graduate program director at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, and The Ohio State University Advanced Education Program in Periodontics, for a presentation by Dr. Roy Page, professor at the University of Washington School of Dentistry, Department of Periodontology.

Visionary Society

The Visionary Society recognizes those who commit to making planned or estate gifts of $10,000 and more to the AAP Foundation. Generosity of this magnitude significantly benefits both the Foundation and the donors. Planned gifts at this level help to ensure that the Foundation will be able to continue to fulfill its mission on behalf of periodontists and their patients over the long term. Donors of planned gifts may realize tax benefits, lifetime income, or the opportunity to make a larger gift.

Donors

Gerald M. Bowers Endowment Fund for the American Board of Periodontology

The Gerald M. Bowers Endowment Fund for the American Board of Periodontology (ABP) helps to strengthen periodontology by providing the financial stability that enables the specialty's certifying board to meet current and future challenges. The Fund supports the expansion of Board testing capabilities to a rapidly growing number of candidates, as well as other activities that enable periodontists to become board certified.

Education Funds

The need for full-time periodontal faculty is ongoing, and in an effort to fill current and future faculty vacancies with the most committed and talented educators, the AAP Foundation administers two education funds: The Education Action Fund and The Education Endowment Fund.

Launched with a $1 million commitment from the American Academy of Periodontology, the Education Action Fund supports the immediate need for periodontal educators by funding the AAP Educator Scholarships (for periodontal students who intend to enter full-time teaching at a U.S. program upon graduation) and the AAP Teaching Fellowships (for periodontal educators in their first three years of full-time teaching at a US periodontal program).

The Education Endowment Fund is intended to support over the long term programs that further the development of periodontal educators.

Jana McGuire, Michael McGuire, and Faith Zackin. The McGuires have a lengthy history as Foundation supporters, beginning with a pledge to the General Endowment Fund in 1994. They also realize the benefits of planned giving and have made a planned gift to the Gerald M. Bowers Endowment Fund for the AAP.

Jay S. Seibert Society

Dr. Jay S. Seibert was a highly regarded educator and proponent of life-long learning. Gifts to the AAP Foundation's Seibert Society honor his ideals and commitment and fund a continuing education session in Dr. Seibert's memory each year at the American Academy of Periodontology annual meeting.

Sustaining Fund

The Sustaining Fund supports the day-to-day operations of the Foundation and helps to defray some of the costs of administering and promoting the Foundation's endowed funds. A healthy Sustaining Fund means that the Foundation can direct nearly 88 cents of every dollar donated to an endowed fund to the purpose of that fund and now toward administrative costs.

Racers and walkers relax after completing the Mile High 5K Fast Run and Walk at the Annual Meeting in Denver. The race course wove through Denver's scenic City Park.

Mile High 5K Fun Run/Walk

Hearty runners rolled out of bed early Tuesday morning for the Mile High 5K Fun Run and Walk, sponsored by 3i. Race warm-up exercises were led by "Miles," the Denver Bronco mascot, before the runners and walkers took off on the course, which wove through Denver's scenic City Park. Walter Rao capture was the overall men's winner, blazing through the course with a 6:21 pace to post a 19:41 time and Katrina Lasher took the women's top spot, with a 24:36 time for a 7:56 pace. Age category winners were:

Estate Planning

The Foundation's estate planning session for periodontists and spouses, sponsored by Treloar and Heisel, Inc. proved popular again at the 2005 annual meeting. Registrants heard Jacqueline Wiggins, JD, LLM, CLU, ChFC, Director of Estate and Business Planning with Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, shared her expertise on estate planning with periodontists and their spouses in the Foundation estate planning breakfast at the Annual Meeting. Jeff Wherry, Certified Financial Planner, who also addressed the group, gave an overview of general financial planning issues.

Mark Mangelson and Becky Mangelson were among the many periodontists and spouses attending the AAP Foundation's estate planning session, sponsored by Treloar and Heisel, at the 2005 Annual Meeting in Denver

Silent Auction

More than 100 products and services were offered for bid at the Foundation's Silent Auction at the Annual Meeting. Bidders had the opportunity to snare a week at a resort condominium, buy handcrafted jewelry at a bargain price, or go for something more practical, such as dental equipment. Companies and individuals donate the items and proceeds from the auction support the Foundation.

Car Drawing

In support of the Foundation Sustaining Fund, Nobel Biocare once again donated a three-year lease on an automobile for the ever popular car raffle. The 2005 offering was a BMW Z4 Roadster. Dr. Craig Meadows of Martinsburg, West Virginia, held the winning ticket.

The Foundation's Silent Auction draws hundreds of visitors every year. Items up for bid range from dental equipment to getaways at vacation condos.

Special Events and Sponsorships

AAP/AAPF Corporate Forum

The annual Corporate Forum drew heavy crowds at the Colorado Convention Center. The Corporate Forum is open to all Annual Meeting registrants and provides the opportunity to learn about the latest products and research produced by participating companies. Companies participating in the 2005 Corporate Forum were:

AAP/AAPF Presidents' Gala

The Denver Center for the Performing Arts set the stage for the annual AAP/AAPF Presidents' Gala. Dining and dancing under a canopy of stars in the Center's Seawell Ballroom, guests enjoyed a stellar evening that evoked the Gala's "Starry Starry Night" theme wherever they turned. The Ballroom's floor-to-ceiling windows offered panoramic views of the mountains and, as the night sky darkened, the city lights of Denver, while overhead hundreds of tiny lights embedded in the Ballroom ceiling twinkled.

AAP President Dr. Vincent Iacono and Foundation President Dr. Jerry Zackin and his wife, Faith, hosted the evening. Members, guests, and corporate partners enjoyed a convivial atmosphere of fine dining, a spectacular view, and music that brought nearly everyone to the dance floor.

Front row: Michael McGuire, Edward (Pat) Allen, Vice President of the Foundation Board, S. Jerome Zackin, President of the Foundation, Paul Levi, Jr., Secretary-treasurer of the Foundation, Donald S. Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors

The American Academy of Periodontology Foundation

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of The American Academy of Periodontology Foundation, a nonprofit organization, as of December 31, 2004 and 2003 and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Foundation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The American Academy of Periodontology Foundation as of December 31, 2004 and 2003, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

A Final Word ... Building on Success to Move Ahead

The AAP Foundation and its many individual and corporate supporters can look back on the year 2005 with considerable pride as a significant campaign reached its goal while other areas of support continued to move ahead. We enter the coming year with dental education moving to the fore as a focus for new programmatic efforts. Periodontal education is a key component of the Academy's 2020 Vision and the Foundation's mission. Supporting this area is both an appropriate and timely endeavor for the Foundation. At the same time, we will continue to fulfill our broad mission, which promotes the periodontal health of the public, supports the development of new knowledge, and assists periodontists at all stages of their professional lives.
