INTRODUCTION: MESSAGE FROM THE IMMEDIATE PAST PRESIDENT

Dear Colleague:

The American Academy of Periodontology Foundation significantly expanded its support for the development of periodontal educators in 2006, directing $230,000 to the 10 first-time recipients of three new awards that focus on educator development. AAP Educator Scholarships were awarded to two students in periodontal training programs who intend to teach, AAP Teaching Fellowships were awarded to two young educators, and six AAPF Fellowships to the Institute for Teaching and Learning (ITL) Program for Dental School Faculty were awarded to periodontists who wanted to enhance their skills as educators or transition from private practice to education. These awards represent the Foundation's commitment to creating a pipeline of periodontal educators for academic slots created by retirement, which are projected to have a significant impact throughout dental education as "baby boomers" step down, and the increasing debt load of young periodontists makes higher paying careers outside of academia more attractive. The Foundation is taking a proactive stance to ensure that an adequate number of periodontal educators is maintained in the face of these challenges and others that may arise in the future.

Total funds budgeted to be dispersed by the AAP Foundation topped $500,000 in 2006 and included ongoing support of existing education and research awards as well as new support for national research activities conducted under the auspices of the Centers for Disease Control and assessing the prevalence of periodontal disease in the general population.

None of this would be possible without the generosity of our donors. By the end of 2006, the Foundation had grown to more than $10 million in invested funds due in large part to donor gifts and pledges. The specialty is deeply indebted to you. On behalf of the Foundation Board you have our gratitude and our promise to continue to direct Foundation assets toward those programs that strengthen periodontology now and in the future.

Sincerely yours,

Edward P. Allen, D.D.S., Ph.D.
2006 President, American Academy of Periodontology Foundation

Edward (Pat) Allen, D.D.S., Ph.D.,

President

AAP Foundation Presents Three New Awards in 2006

Expanding its support of educator development, the American Academy of Periodontology Foundation presented three new awards to a total of 10 recipients in 2006.

SECTION A: AWARDS

AAP Educator Scholarships

Dr. Patricia Diaz and Dr. Stephanie Mullins were the first recipients of AAP Educator Scholarships. Dr. Diaz is in the Periodontology M.S. program in the Department of Periodontology, School of Dentistry, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and is scheduled to graduate in May 2008. At the time of her selection Dr. Stephanie Mullins was a resident in the Periodontal Program at the University of Missouri Kansas City, School of Dentistry; she received both her periodontal certificate and Masters of Oral Biology in December 2006. She began both clinical and didactic teaching at UMKC in January.

The $50,000 AAP Educator Scholarships are awarded to outstanding students in U.S. periodontal training programs who intend to enter full-time teaching at a U.S. periodontal program upon graduation. The Scholarships require that recipients spend one year as a full-time educator at a U.S. periodontal program for each year he/she received the AAP Educator Scholarship.

Dr. Diaz received her D.D.S. from the Institute of Health Sciences in Colombia, and her BSc.Dent. with First Class Honors from the Dental School of the University of Adelaide, Australia, where she also received her Ph.D. She took postdoctoral training at the National Institute of Dental and Craniofacial Research (NIDCR), National Institutes of Health (NIH), Bethesda, Maryland.

Dr. Mullins received her D.D.S. from the University of Missouri Kansas City, School of Dentistry. Dr. Mullins was a full-time faculty member at the UMKC School of Dentistry 2003-2004 and received the "Outstanding Team III Faculty" award.

First AAP Educator Scholarships and Teaching Fellowships Awarded in 2006

In 2006, the American Academy of Periodontology Foundation awarded the first AAP Teaching Fellowships and AAP Educator Scholarships. The awards were created by a $1 million commitment from the American Academy of Periodontology and are administered by the AAP Foundation. They are intended to support the recruitment and retention of periodontal educators.

2006 Educator Scholarship Recipients:

Patricia
Diaz

Patricia Diaz, 2006 recipient of an AAP Educator Scholarship, will be graduating in May 2008. At the time of her nomination she had 12 original manuscripts that had been published or submitted to peer-reviewed journals.

Stephanie
Mullins

During her years in private practice and as a full-time faculty member, following graduation from the University of Missouri Kansas City School of Dentistry, Stephanie Mullins found her interests turning to specialty training in periodontics because of its strong basic science foundation. In 2004 she started her periodontal residency and in 2006 was awarded an AAP Educator Scholarship.

2006 Teaching Fellowship Recipients:

David Kim, 2006 recipient of an AAP Teaching Fellowship, has pursued many research avenues, including the role of genetics in periodontal disease and the impact of squamous cell carcinoma in periodontics. In his responsibilities as predoctoral periodontology program director at Harvard, he oversees academic and clinical development of more than 70 third and fourth year dental students.

Mohanad Al-Sabbagh, who received an AAP Teaching Fellowship in 2006, believes that education has the capacity to change lives. He first observed this while teaching in a less educated, rural community prior to coming to the U.S. There, he helped to improve the level of preventive dentistry by teaching "simple but effective" methods of oral hygiene.

AAP Teaching Fellowships

The first AAP Teaching Fellowships were awarded to Mohanad Al-Sabbagh, D.D.S., M.S., Program Director of the Periodontology training program at the University of Kentucky College of Dentistry, and David Kim, D.D.S., D.M.Sc., Director of Predoctoral Periodontics at the Harvard School of Dental Medicine. The $50,000 AAP Teaching Fellowships are awarded to outstanding young periodontal educators who are in their first three years of teaching at U.S. periodontal training programs. The award was created to support young periodontal educators in their pursuit of an academic career in periodontal education.

Dr. Al-Sabbagh joined the University of Kentucky College of Dentistry faculty in 2004 as an Assistant Professor. In 2006 he became program director of the Graduate Periodontology program at the school's College of Dentistry. Dr. Al-Sabbagh received the Ruth L. Kirschstein National Research Service Award from the University of Washington, School of Dental Medicine in 2005 and in 2004 was recognized for teaching excellence by the State University of New York at Buffalo, School of Dental Medicine, Department of Periodontics.

Dr. Kim received his D.D.S. from the University of Maryland Dental School, Baltimore, and his D.M.Sc. from Harvard School of Dental Medicine, where he also received his Certificate in Periodontology. He became an instructor at Harvard School of Dental Medicine in 2005 and Director of the Predoctoral Periodontics program the same year. In 2005 Dr. Kim was recipient of the AAP Balint Orban award in clinical science.

Kramer Scholar Award

Doina Panaite, D.D.S., was named the 2006 recipient of the Dr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Kramer Scholar Award for Excellence. Dr. Panaite was a student at the UCLA School of Dentistry, Postgraduate Periodontics Program at the time of her nomination.

Candidates for the Kramer Scholar Award are nominated by their program directors. Dr. Panaite was selected from a field of three finalists. Dr. Mark Lucas of the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio (at the time of his nomination) and Dr. Thomas Zahavi of the Eastman Dental Center at the University of Rochester Medical Center were also invited to the annual meeting for personal interviews with the Kramer Selection Committee, the final phase of the selection process. The recipient is then announced at the annual meeting.

Criteria for selection include academic achievement, community service and personal excellence. In addition to her academic work, Dr. Panaite founded and currently coordinates a program in which dental students and practicing dentists volunteer their services to underprivileged children in Romanian orphanages.

The $10,000 Kramer Scholar Award was established to honor the outstanding contributions of Dr. Gerald Kramer and his wife, Sylvia, to the periodontal specialty. Candidates for the award must be students in their third year of an accredited U.S. periodontal postdoctoral program and are nominated by their periodontal program director. The first Kramer Scholar Award was presented in 1997.

2006 Kramer Scholar Recipient:

Doina Panaite overcame extreme challenges, living on her own as a teen for three years in Romania after her parents escaped the country, to become an outstanding dental and periodontal student. In the U.S. she organized volunteer dentists to travel to Romanian orphanages to give care to underprivileged children. In 2006, Dr. Panaite was awarded the Dr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Kramer Scholar Award for Excellence.

2006 Tarrson Fellowship Recipient:

Monish Bhola, 2006 recipient of the Bud and Linda Tarrson Fellowship, is Program Director of Graduate Periodontics at the University of Detroit Mercy, School of Dentistry, Department of Periodontology and Dental Hygiene. While teaching and supervising predoctoral students at an inner-city hospital in Detroit, Dr. Bhola saw five to ten HIV/AIDS patients a day. He convinced his chairperson and school administration of the need for a periodontal clinic to see medically compromised, uninsured periodontal patients. This eventually served as a platform for developing a graduate periodontal program at the school.

The Bud and Linda Tarrson Fellowship was established to encourage young faculty to continue their careers in academia. Candidates are nominated by their program directors and must be either full- or part-time faculty members affiliated with a U.S. training institution for 10 years or less. The Tarrson Fellowship provides the recipient with a $30,000 award.

Monish Bhola, D.D.S., was 2006 recipient of the Bud and Linda Tarrson Fellowship. Dr. Bhola is Program Director of Graduate Periodontics at the University of Detroit Mercy, School of Dentistry, Department of Periodontology and Dental Hygiene. He was instrumental in developing the periodontal program at the school.

Finalists for the award were Dr. Steven Blanchard of the Indiana University School of Dentistry Department of Periodontics and Dr. Sotirios Vastardis of the Louisiana State University, School of Dentistry, Department of Periodontics. Finalists are invited for personal interviews at the annual meeting, where the recipient is announced.

The Tarrsons developed the award with the intent of helping educators to reach their dream of staying in academics and dental research. It was the Foundation's first award to support periodontal educators and remains the only career-development award for young academics in the award portfolio. The first Tarrson Fellowship was awarded in 1998.

Abram and Sylvia Chasens Teaching and Research Fellowships

The American Academy of Periodontology Foundation awarded two Abram and Sylvia Chasens Teaching and Research Fellowships in 2006. The Fellowships are $15,000 each and two are awarded annually to uniquely talented individuals who are in their third year of an accredited postdoctoral training program in the US and intend to pursue full-time periodontal teaching and research.

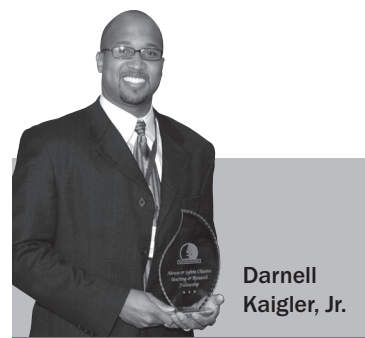

The 2006 recipients of the Fellowships were Mark Lucas, D.D.S., M.S., and Darnell Kaigler, Jr., D.D.S., Ph.D. Dr. Lucas was completing his periodontal training at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio at the time of his nomination and since accepted a position as Assistant Professor in the Division of Periodontics at the University of Colorado School of Dentistry. Dr. Kaigler was completing his Certificate in Periodontics and pursuing his M.S. in Clinical Research Design and Statistical Analysis at the University of Michigan Department of Periodontics and Oral Medicine at the time of his award. He has since become adjunct clinical lecturer in dentistry and research fellow, Periodontics and Oral Medicine, School of Dentistry, at the University of Michigan.

The Chasens Fellowship was created by Dr. and Mrs. Chasens out of concern about the shortage of dental educators. Dr. Chasens taught for more than 30 years, which included a full-time post from 1957 to 1971 at Fairleigh Dickinson University, where he started the Department of Periodontics and Oral Medicine. Ten Chasens Fellowships have been awarded since 2002.

2006 Chasens Fellow Darnell Kaigler, Jr. was the first person to matriculate through the combined D.D.S., Ph.D. program at the University of Michigan School of Dentistry. Dr. Kaigler sees himself acting as a bridge between the practice of clinical dentistry and the exploration of oral health sciences. In addition to his commitment to teaching and research, he has found the time to serve as a founding member of a youth mentoring program that has awarded more than 50 academic scholarships to students entering 4-year academic institutions.

Mark

Mark Lucas, a 2006 recipient of the Abram and Sylvia Chasens Teaching and Research Fellowship, feels that in this age of information-on-demand "a teacher must stay on the forefront of this information wave." In addition, Dr. Lucas sees that a strong clinical presence in the faculty practice can "provide the perspective and skills needed to critically evaluate new information relevant to the specialty."

Richard J. Lazzara Fellowship in Advanced Implant Surgery Sponsored by Biomet 3i

Daniel Engler-Hamm, D.M.D., was the 2006 recipient of the Richard J. Lazzara Fellowship in Advanced Implant Surgery, a $50,000 award sponsored by Biomet 3i. Dr. Engler-Hamm was in his third year of periodontal post-doctoral training at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine Department of Periodontology at the time of his application. The Lazzara Fellowship is a 12-month program that includes clinical, teaching, and research components. Dr. Engler-Hamm conducted his research in the Tufts School of Dental Medicine.

During his Lazzara Fellowship, Dr. Engler-Hamm completed nearly 45 implant cases, and submitted several articles for publication. His published articles include a two-part article "State of the Art Sinus-Augmentation" in Implantologie Journal, "Staged Periodontal Plastic Surgery in the Management of Patients With Complex Dental Problems," with Drs. Terrence Griffin and Wai Cheung in Dentistry Today, and "Ridge Preservation-Why and When," with Dimitrios Drakos in Implants. In addition, as a result of being a Lazzara Fellow, he became involved in the Dental Online College, an online portal that offers interactive courses and content.

Dr. Engler-Hamm felt that the Lazzara Fellowship presents an exceptional opportunity for young periodontists wishing to pursue an academic and research career and gain particular knowledge of implantology. "If you have a passion for this, the Lazzara Fellowship gives you the freedom to pursue it."

The AAP Foundation Lazzara Fellowship was created to provide educational and clinical experiences that reflect the most current techniques in implant dentistry and the first Lazzara Fellowship was awarded in 2004. The Fellowship is named in honor of Dr. Richard J. Lazzara, one of the specialty's leaders in implantology, and sponsored by Biomet 3i.

Students may apply for the Lazzara Fellowship during their third year of periodontal postdoctoral training. The application is made jointly by the student and the student's periodontal program director.

AAP Foundation Education Fellowship Funded by OMNI Preventive Care

Yong Hur, D.D.S., of the Tufts University Department of Periodontology, was the first recipient of the AAP Foundation Education Fellowship Funded by OMNI Preventive Care. The $15,000 award supports students with an interest in research focused on the prevention of periodontitis. Dr. Hur is pursuing a Master of Science in Oral Health and Certificate in Periodontology. He proposed research that develops evidence-based information to better predict therapeutic outcomes by studying various risk factors involved in periodontal disease.

Applicants for the award must be students in their first or second year of a U.S. periodontal postdoctoral program.

Charles W. Finley Visiting Scholar Education Grants

The Charles W. Finley Visiting Scholar Education Grants were established to honor the memory of Dr. Finley, a renowned educator and past Foundation president, who believed in the value of educating the entire dental team about periodontology. The Finley Grants help periodontal programs to secure qualified speakers in periodontology who can share their knowledge in a way that will benefit all members of the dental team. The Grants are competitive and each year a select number of presentations are chosen.

In 2006, Charles W. Finley Visiting Scholar Grants were awarded to:

Creighton University School of Dentistry
for a presentation by Lieutenant-Colonel Steven Maller

The University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston
for a presentation by Dr. Niklaus Lang

The Finley Visiting Scholar awards must be matched by the selected programs. Twenty-five Finley awards have been made to periodontal programs since the first in 2001.

2006 AAP Foundation Education Fellowship Funded by OMNI Preventive Care, Recipient:

Yong Hur, 2006 recipient of the AAP Foundation Education Fellowship Funded by OMNI Preventive Care, plans to pursue a career path in periodontal education and research. "Professors do more than lecture," observes Dr. Hur. "They give students role models, goals and inspiration." Dr. Hur is pursuing his Master of Science in Oral Health and Certificate in Periodontology at Tufts University Department of Periodontology.

E. Bud Tarrson Research Award in Oral Plastic Surgery

The E. Bud Tarrson Research Award in Oral Plastic Surgery was created to support and encourage periodontal research in oral plastic surgery. It awards $1,000 for the best paper on clinical oral plastic surgery published in a peer-reviewed journal. At least one of the paper's researchers must be a periodontist or a periodontal postgraduate student.

The Foundation presented the 2006 E. Bud Tarrson Research Award in Oral Plastic Surgery to:

Massimo Del Pizzo

Department of Periodontics,
University of Turin, Turin, Italy

Roberto Villa

Department of Periodontics,
University of Turin, Turin, Italy

Department of Periodontics,
University of Bologna, Bologna, Italy

Cesare Debernardi

Department of Periodontics,
University of Turin, Turin, Italy

Fabio Modica

Department of Periodontics,
University of Turin, Turin, Italy

Their research paper was titled "Coronally Advanced Flap With or Without Enamel Matrix Derivative for Root Coverage: A 2-year Study," and published in the Journal of Clinical Periodontology.

The award was announced at the 2006 annual meeting and is the third to be made.

Foundation Supports Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Pre-Pilot Study

The American Academy of Periodontology Foundation joined with the AAP in matching their support for a grant total of $50,000 provided to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. The money will help to fund a pre-pilot study that is part of a CDC/AAP partnership aimed at developing a surveillance system to determine the incidence and prevalence of periodontal disease in the U.S.

Specifically, the pre-pilot study will involve a comprehensive periodontal examination that will be included in the CDC's 2009-2010 National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey (NHANES). A comprehensive periodontal examination has never been included in the NHANES survey. The results of the study ultimately will be used to validate findings of the national periodontal disease surveillance system.

The Foundation's support of the effort signifies the importance of its commitment to educational and research activities in keeping with the Foundation's mission.

AAP Foundation Fellowships to the Institute for Teaching and Learning

Thanks to a grant from the AAP Foundation, six periodontists were able to expand their teaching skills by attending the Institute for Teaching and Learning in the Health Professions (ITL) Program for Dental Faculty. In 2006, the ITL Program was held in three phases over a five-month period at host schools. It is designed for dentists currently in education or those who wish to transition from private practice to teaching and as such complements Foundation programs supporting the development of periodontal educators.

The following selected Fellows for 2006 attended the Institute for Teaching and Learning.

SECTION C: VISIONARY SOCIETY

SECTION C: SUMMARY

Which of the following statements are TRUE regarding the Visionary Society?

- ☐ A The society was founded in 2000.
- ☐ B There are a total of 33 members.

SECTION C: VISIONARY SOCIETY

Visionary Society

Now in its sixth year, the AAP Foundation Visionary Society confers special recognition on those donors who make planned or estate gifts to the Foundation of $10,000 or more. Visionary Society members have determined that the specialty has a particularly meaningful place in their lives and have chosen to honor the specialty by including it in their estate plans. Visionary Society gifts ensure that the Foundation over the long term will be able to conduct programs benefiting the specialty and the public. Members who make a Visionary Society gift may realize tax benefits, lifetime income, or the opportunity to make a larger gift than would otherwise be possible.

During the 2006 Annual Meeting, the Foundation held a special Visionary Society dinner honoring Robert T. Ferris, D.D.S., Ph.D., and his $1 million legacy for dental education. Dr. Ferris was a founding officer of the AAP Foundation and has been a major supporter. Making a few brief remarks to the gathering, he reminded them that dental education has been the source of their good fortune and as it faces today's challenges, dental education requires their support. Reflecting on the master teachers who taught many in the room, he noted, "From my point of view, the least that we can do is to find, cultivate and support their successors—a new generation of clinical scholars who will have that passion for teaching, investigating and giving."

The special dinner also provided the setting to welcome new members of the Visionary Society in 2006, Dr. and Mrs. P.D. Miller and Dr. Bryan and Dr. Linda Frantz.

Robert T.
Ferris

Robert T. Ferris was honored for his generous support of the AAP Foundation at the Visionary Society dinner, held at the San Diego Wine and Culinary Center. Half of his $1 million planned gift to support dental education will benefit the AAPF's support of periodontal education. In addition to this planned gift, Dr. Ferris also made a previous $250,000 planned gift to the Bowers Endowment Fund for the ABP and has generously donated to the Education Action Fund and General Endowment Fund.

JoAnne Rummelhart (left) supports the Foundation's Bowers Endowment Fund because of the examples set by Gerald Bowers and her mentor Jim Mellonig. "The Foundation can do things for the specialty that no other vehicle can do," she notes. Elyn English (right), gives to the Education Action Fund to help foster the development of younger educators who she hopes will uphold the quality that marks periodontal education.

Manuel Marks and his wife, Florence, made their first donation to the AAPF in 1994 with a gift to the General Endowment Fund. They have also made several gifts to the Kramer Fund over the years. "He was a great educator for many young graduate students and practicing periodontists and one of my role models," says Dr. Marks. "Through the Foundation, the Kramer Fund recognizes excellence in periodontal students."

Education Action Fund Donors (Through April 19, 2007)

The development of periodontal educators is at a critical juncture today. In the near future, a large number of periodontal educators will be entering retirement and it is imperative that others be prepared to take their place. The Education Action Fund, launched with a $1 million commitment from the American Academy of Periodontology, enables the Foundation to support programs that will drive the recruitment and retention of periodontal educators.

Donors to the Education Action Fund recognize the challenge facing periodontal education and have committed to addressing it immediately.
